

Cookie Policy

We believe clear policies build better customer relationships. This page explains what you can expect when you browse, contact, or purchase from Apex Auto Spare Parts.

Effective date: September 6, 2026

1. What cookies are

Cookies are small text files stored by your browser. Similar technologies include pixels, local storage, tags, and software development kits. They help websites remember choices, operate shopping features, measure performance, and protect against fraud.

2. Categories we may use

- 1 Strictly necessary: required for security, network management, cart, checkout, account login, language, and privacy choices. The site may not work properly without them.
- 1 Preferences: remember choices such as region, display, recently viewed products, or vehicle information.
- 1 Analytics: help us understand visits, errors, performance, and how customers move through the site using aggregated or pseudonymous measurements where possible.
- 1 Advertising and social media: may measure campaigns, limit repeated ads, or support content from third-party platforms. These technologies may connect activity across sites when enabled.

3. Your choice

Where consent is required, non-essential cookies should be used only after you choose them through an available cookie banner or preference tool. You can change or withdraw that choice through the “Cookie Settings” link when displayed, clear cookies, or use browser controls. Blocking some cookies may affect saved carts, login, preferences, or embedded features.

4. Third parties

Our hosting, ecommerce, payment, fraud-prevention, analytics, advertising, map, video, chat, and social-media providers may set or read cookies when their services are active. Their processing is governed by their own notices as well as our contracts and applicable law. The exact cookies can change when the site or provider configuration changes; your browser’s storage controls and the site’s consent tool provide the most current device-level view.

5. Retention

Session cookies expire when the browser closes. Persistent cookies remain until their stated expiry or until deleted. We aim to keep non-essential cookie durations proportionate to their purpose.

6. Do Not Track and global signals

Browser “Do Not Track” signals are not interpreted consistently across the industry. Where required and technically supported, we honour legally recognized opt-out preference signals. You can always use the consent and browser controls described above.

7. Privacy

For information about data collection, sharing, access, correction, and complaints, read our Privacy Policy.

8. Updates

We may update this Cookie Policy when technologies, providers, or legal requirements change. The effective date above identifies the current version.
